Ego Alley

It was kinda hard for me to write this. My buddy, Mr. Monotone along with Leon Godfrey, John McCaferty and David Snyder have all succumbed to that dreaded disease-graduation. Normally this wouldn't be too bad-hell even I did it-but in this case it means banishment from the air-waves. For the past few years, these guys have been in the vanguard presenting the new music. WKDU is the creation of one man or in spite of him, depending to whom you're talking to. That man is David Snyder. OK, sometimes he has acted like a real beat-off, but I would hate to see where the station would be without him. Now we will have that chance. I'm gonna miss that cretin--but I also like walking on broken glass bare-foot.

There will always be 'KDU blatin' out the sounds an' great DJs doin' it. I just won't forget that these guys were first... In case you haven't noticed, Plastic Man hasn't been gracing the Friday slot at WXPX lately. It seems that the board of directors think the time slot could be used for a "more creative" format. Bullshit.

With the demise of Plastic Man, there's now less than fifty hours of new music in the Philly area. If you're lucky enough to be able to pick up the stations around Trenton and Princeton, great, most of us ain't so write, bitch, moan, complain or whatever it takes to get ole P M back where he belongs: On the air!! Just send your threats to: WXPX 3905 Spruce ST, Phila., Pa, 19104.

Let's talk about economics. You know...that irritating stuff that they pumped into you about guns and butter, especially guns. There are certain countries that maintain major elements of economic control over areas through a particular method known as imperialism. Ours amongst them, the one in question tonight is the British. They practise this in North Ireland. This is the only way they can maintain their foothold on the vast amounts of mineral deposits located north of Belfast. After all, the British Empire refers to itself as the United Kingdom. United by blood and bullets.

Religious differences is only the propaganda used by the English to cover their fuck-ups. Interesting, as both Catholics and Protestants in North Ireland want to be unified with Ireland proper. So much so that they elected "felon" Bobby Sands to Parliament even though he had been permanently shelved in Long Kesh on charges conveniently created. The Irish want their independence enough that Sand was the 22nd in the line of people who have starved themselves in H-Block. As I write this, there has been three more strike fatalities, and there are 20 more doing the same. After these go, there are 70 more men and women ready to stretch this out till they get the point across. This adds up to over 100 people.

Why do this? The TV generation loves one thing in particular...drama. There's nothing like the tragedy of people dying for a cause to increase your Nielson share. I mean, starving yourself to death is one sure way to get all the Barbara Walters of the world hot...for a story. So now you have her and Larry Kane coming all over themselves when they think of all the copy this makes the front page or three minutes on the 6 to 6:30 weeknight slot.

This also gets the I.R.A. Message across relatively pure of British censorship. True, they don't really show you the conditions the prisoners have to live with in Long Kesh. Also they don't show you anything about Armagh, the concentration camp next door. One of the few known gas points legally left open in the Western "free" world. But really, do people have to kill themselves to get your attention?

Well, if you've read this far I must have yours. Writing this is not going to stop the hunger strike, but several hundred words of rambling verbiage is for a point. I stated in the beginning, that this is really an economic war as much as it is a civil one. Financially, the UK would be really hurt without N. Ireland.

So hit them where it matters...with money. Don't buy British products in any form be it Scotch, British Petroleum or the latest Blitz product. Buying any of these items is supporting a group of faggot fascists anyway. Further, don't buy any products that are made by British "Protectorates" or "Commonwealths" such as Hong Kong, the Bahamas, Canada or Australia. It all gets kicked back to Thatcher anyway.

Remember, this is a guns and butter war. But without money, the British would be unable to buy either.

THE WORLD OF DANCE MUSIC AND THE ARTS

When Evan Hartman and Rick Millan throw a party, they do it the right way: they rent out Grendel's Lair, hire Randy Dance and the King of Siam to entertain; and their 400 guests were quite happy (the champagne helped a bit). O Yeah the reason for the bash was to celebrate the naming their store on South st-Zipperhead...Sheva Golkow has become the managing editor of Terminal, congratulations m dear...Since this issue is supposedly about radio we have to include these people from WKDU: Jerri Gormley has become the first female station manager in the area (she replaces David Snyder). Lloyd Force has taken over as music director (again from Snyder; why does it take two sane people to replace him?). And the lovely Cathy Cummings will be doing PR with an able assist from Mark (of the devil) Robinson...Steve Kane the publisher of Newsounds, was recently hospitalized, you can send cards c/o the magazine...If you call the East-Side Club for some info, you might hear a familiar voice-Mr. Monotone. The nice guy of the scene is now doing PR work for them. While we were at the East Side, we also ran into another old friend- Brian Setzer (Stray Cats). He was in town to catch his brother Gary's band, the Roustabouts. Don't be surprised if you see the Stray Cats here in July or August (you can guess where)...Half-Twit VS Half-wit Dept: Mike Tearson (the twit) had a little discussion with David (yes him again) Snyder (the supposed wit) at the Bijou, not much was said that will shake the world except they agreed they dislike each other; just like everyone else does?...When Mr. Lee (hey hey hey) Paris celebrates his 47th birthday this month, we wonder if he will invite his estranged wife Lana, and his 16th month old child to the bash at Rainbows?

What do the Blinders, Freddy Pompeii (ex Viletone) and Trek with Quintronic all have in common? They've all relocated in the Philly area. The Blinders from Kentucky?! And Hey don't forget to check out their EP cause it's great. Freddy and the Trek gang made it down from Canada...Out this month: Pretty Poison and the long awaited release by the Warm Jets, both are singles...The Reds will have their Canadian LP down here this month as well...Watch for these bands: Venial Sin from the Trenton area; No Milk, the Nuerotics and the Trial (more on them later)...King of Siam, Stickmen and the newest edition of Sci Fi are getting ready for live gigs again...Notice is now given that the John Cadillac Band is no more-they are now the Bobaloos.

Philly has a new club, the East Side and we wish them well. Actually, the way they are booking and drawing crowds it's the other clubs in the area that might need the luck. DOA, the B Girls and the Sick Fucks were among the first bands to play. Look out for the Trial, Reds, Bobaloos and Sadistic Exploits to keep you dancing. Those lovely Fuckettes, Tish and Snookie said it best, "We love Philly and we love this club!"...A few blocks away, Omnis has come up with something unique: a talent night (free admission), or as the New Regime prefers to call it-Band War. The audience along with various members of the media. First up is Photon Madness VS The Trial (go Trial go) on Thursday, the 11th. These little wars will be every thurs. While you're keeping score don't forget the Fall or the Cheaters...Meanwhile, up in Trenton, City Gardens has had the crowds sweating: The newest edition of the Dance made their local debut. Other hot shows were Buzz and the Flyers, Our Daughter's Wedding and the Bush Tetras. Buzz will be back by popular demand and don't miss the Fleshtones or the Cramps. The best for last: the Shades have reformed and will be playing on the 27th-be there...There is a small seedy little bar on South St that for the past few years has been showcasing some good local talent. The place is J.C. Dobbs. Alan Mann, the Biggs, John Cadillac and the Hardons-to mention a few-have all graced their stage. It must be good; they won't let Dunhill in...If the Starlite is open on 6/10 with the Strangers, then David was telling the truth (for a change) otherwise HA! HA! HA! Who sez this city don't gotta sense of humor?

Rumor Of The Month: The Ebony Queen is going straight!!!

Quote Of The Month: I'm not a groupie, I'm just a fan- Ms Nancy

Band Of The Month: Sadistic Exploits

Nurd Of The Month: Stanley Sigel. Everything this louse does gets blamed on poor, poor JR. Bad Stanley bad. Mr. Stanton always gets to CHECK him or BOUNCE him before he can cause him further grief, but Stanley usually sneaks in to somehow mess JR up. Which is a shame, cause we all what a nice guy JR really is-one day we hope he gets what he deserves.
