hat's right folks. As of now I am a college graduate. and it's high time for me, Nik las Vegas, to go out there and get a job. Time to get moolah, lettuce, bucks, cash. salad. skins, shimoli's, cabbage...do I make myself clear? "I understand," you say, "This guy wants to be a commercial success." Well, finally you got it right. I gotta get a job. But I know what you're thinking. "There's unemploymentand abadecomonyandanoverallinflationrateofblahblahblah....." So for all of you who are out there seeking employment at this time. let me cheerfully relate my experiences with the job market.

I've just recently graduated art school, and don't really know who to see or where to look for a job. So I go to the nearest ad agency. I stroll into the Art Director's office and say. "Hey Anita job." Okay, lemme see your portfolio. Hmm. ahh, yawn, burp - "Can you do paste-up? spec type? illustrate? Do you know anything about type??" "Sure, I do - besides that I make great coffee ... "Grin," he says, "Well, I, uh, I don't think I can use you. Why don't you go to New York?" So, I figured I oughta be real simple. I don't know anyone in New York, so I wouldn't know where to live. And, even if I did get a job up there, I still wouldn't know if I could save any money because the cost of living up there is so high...Let's face it Buddy, I came here to get a job in Philly not in New York." Hmm, yawn, scratch, grunt, "Well, why doncha go see my friend Joey Gefiltefish down at the Chrysler, Ford, Chrysler ad agency. He might be able to help you out."

So on and on it goes-the same old runaround. BUT. some light was shed on the subject when I spoke to the famous Joey Gefiltefish. Ya'know what he said? "I'd hire you but you don't have any experience." I then remarked, "How do you expect me to get any experience if no one will hire me?" He then gave me some good advice, "Why doncha go down to the Abbott and Costello Ad Agency, I hear they hire idiots who don't know anything ... besites that's how I started."

So, I go down to the Abbott and Costello Agency, the Moe, Larry, and Curley Agency, Freddy's Van Painting, The Funky Sign Man in Darby, Bun's deli, Bill's Towing and a host of other places. Well, I didn't get a job, but I did get a terrific blister on my foot and a headache the size of Dolly Parton's left breast. But things could be worse - I could be living in beautiful downtown Camden.

kay, so I'll admit it-I'm an eavesdropper from way Not intentionally, mind you, sometimes it just can't be avoided. Well, the other day was one of those times. I was just going through the motions of my daily routine: riding on the trolley at 7:30 A.M.; fighting to stay awake; thinking how much I despise work, SEPTA, mornings, and just life in general. But, then I tuned in on a nice, juicy conversation between two young women that woke my tired ears right up. At first I thought it was just another "bitch session"-you know, comparing notes on how rotten their boyfriends treat them. Huh, I thought I'd heard it all until I heard about this guy. I couldn't believe that someone so obnoxious was actually in existence.

Soon, I found enough energy to dig up a pen and notebook and jot down as much of the conversation as I could without say ing, "Excuse me, could you repeat that last part?" Here's what I overheard (by accident, of course). It's enough to wake anyone up.

"After we finished making love he picked up my panties and threw them against the wall. He said he wanted to see if they'd stick.'

"...and then he asked me to kiss him after he licked peanut butter off his cat's nose. I don't even like chunky style."

"So, then I told him that I was just thinking out loud - and he told me that I wasn't any good at it when I kept it to myself, so what makes me think it's going to be any different now that everyone knows.

"I'm still paying interest on that drink he bought me two weeks ago."

"And to tell you the truth, I'm not really sure if I'm that into bald men, it's hard to say."

"I really wish he'd stop pulling me around by my collar. It's getting to be a habit!"

"... then, at the bar last night he ordered a beer for himself and a Vinegar & Water for the douche bag next to him. The Son-Of-A-ditch meant MEIIII He's always making me do that to him but I have a really hard time holding my breath that long under water."

"Last Fourth of July he wrapped a flag around his "erected monument and made me pledge my allegiance to the flag.'

"I hate to get him mad - he starts banging his head against the radiator. I'm afraid he is going to hurt himself one of these times."

"I didn't mean to hurt his ego, I really did think it was finger!"

"But I know he really loves me. He told me so last year!"

REAL POOP FROM THE

Ahh, once again we meet between the lines of our favorite iterart wonder; Mel Toxic's PoopJar. Some of you simpletons out there are inquiring just how I come out with this fab column every month without fail. Well. it's like this. I visit this certain subway station below the topling buildings of north Broad Street. From there it's just pure magic.

What do you think of my top ten picks? No, they don't suck. Actually their very accurate. I don't give a shit what you th think. What do you know. I bet most of you out there don't even own a stereo system. And if you do, it's probably one of those Radio Shack specials.

What are your favorite artists? Probably Pat Benatar, or better yet, somebody like the PROTEENS, or NO MILK.

Ya know, I was just talking to Kal Rudman the other day and he said; "Mel, I just love your Poopjar! Can I come over and listen to records?" I said; sorry kid, I have a sauna date with Matt Damsker and John Corr.

Enough of this gibberish.on to the poo.

My schlocky negro man, RICK JAMES,has just released his new LP, THROWIN DOWN; complete with an allstar lineup of guests featuring _GRACE SLICK, ROY AYERS, and the TEMPS. Is there really such a thing as punk funk? Ask a skinhead and then go ask DOUG HENDERSON THOMAS DOLBY also has a new disc; THE GOLDEN AGE OF WIRELESS. Techno pop featuring artists such as BRUCE WOOLEY. ANDY PARTRI DGE. AND LENE LOVICH.

Mel gets cultural.

Say bye to some fab theatre. Grendal's LET MY PEOPLE COME departs for Canada. And EVITA triumphantly says solong. The Forrest is proud to present THE PIRATES OF THE PENZANCE. Starring Nik Las Vegas as Errol; the happy go lucky buccaneer.

Let's talk fliks.

ROCKY III geez, not another fuckin one.

• DEAD MEN DON"T WEAR PLAID Steve Martin and Carl Reiner show everyone that passing gas in public can be fun.

Let's talk records.

For all you devoted music collectors out there that purchase your records through Colubia House or any local Sears outlet. here are a few of my sources.

-"I watered my tree with blood and tears...and in the Summer it bore fruit. And when Autumn came... I took one fruit and brought it to my lips, and it was sweet as the honeycomb." Kahlil Gibran

-"God is with you in all that you do." Genesis 21:22

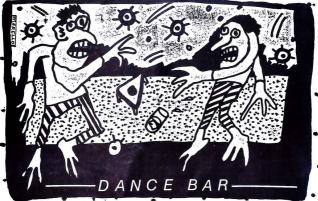

'm sure it would be quite lovely if we all lived in the Garden of Eden. There we'd sleep soundly in the soft grass. When hungry, all we would need to do is pluck the nearest pear and savour it. A land of eternal suntans; even concerts would be free. Such a life is a nice dream and unfortunately we live in the most opposite of situations. Here on Earth, we get only what we pay for and we get paid only if we work for it.

This idea of acheivement through work is deeply woven into the philosophies of most of the worlds religions . The three opening quotes point this out clearly. It is an idea that we all keep in the back of our minds. At times we almost try to forget that each of us is responsible for our own futures. This however is a fatal mistake. The hippies tried to do away with their responsibilities to themselves and they all died in the process.

None of us can afford to be lazy. Not if we want to eat in the finest restaurants. Not if we want to drive a BMW. Not if we want to spend Summer on the Riviera. And we all dream of these things. Good enough isn't good enough for us. We must never be content with life until life gives us everything we want. And we can get everything we want to make all of our dreams come true. If only we want our dreams badly enough to work for them.

first week in juneTWO WEEKS!!

biggest local music festival ever in the NEW THEATRE AT LOVE

CADE FACADE FACA

Spring is a special time of year for all yous beer and bloodshed fans. The Barroom Brawl season gets underway next Week if spring training is any indication the local taverns. bars, grills and sleazy dives should be up to their knees in scenes of some of the most aggravated assaults ever committed. Last week at "Big Dick's Dockside Dive," Frankie "The Human Dog" Scuzzi had his ear ripped off and eaten by Knuckles Kanadanski, the "Polish Psycho." Knuckles later went on to decision Eddie "Used Scumbag" O'Drinksalot, with a 2x4 during the third round of what was allegedly a friendly drinking bout. The irrepressible Knuckles is negotiating a 15 round bout with a local bus in early June. The bus is believed to be either one of two buses interested in fighting Kanadanski ever since he tore up the seats of Bus 68 in a non-sanctioned bout last July.

In other action, "The Funky Dude," was the spot for some serious pre-season activity. Washington "Bad Nigger " X carved up Mohammed "Mother Humper" Mobahli and was fined $50 by the Brawling Commission, for the action. Anyway it doesn't matter as "Mother's good buddy Mustafa "Black Plague" Al-Sudan broke Wash's skull with a Colt 45 bottle. Guess, Al-Sudan's still pissed that X once gave him the shiv treatment in the Graterford Invitational back in '74.

Some early lookers: veteran slugger and part time farm animal Mulehead Muldoon, upcoming (just turned drinking age) Bobby "Die Faggot" Bobbob and last year's best record holder, Earl "Nuclear War" Wargoner. Drink up, snap out and see ya next time.

know exactly how you feel. It's the weekend you haven't any money, and you are bored shitless. Well, here are a couple of helpful hints to turn your dull weekend into an excitement extravaganza!

For those of you who are into water sports, you can spend a vacant Saturday night by pouring about 17 boxes of Jello down into your John. Then after waiting about 45 minutes, the gelatin will settle with the water in your toilet. You are now ready to pull down your pants and have a game of bouncy bowel-movement. Although I must be strict and say that this game is not reccommended for those suffering from the runs.

For those of you that are into more variety, you can adjust the intensity on your television set to bright red. Then after shooting two cans of ready whip onto your firm nipples, you can then watch an episode of Delaware and you.

If this doesn't suffice you in your search for excitement you can invite 16 Jamie Farr and Jimmie Durante impersonators and conduct a nose picking jamboree with the use of lit welding torches.

Well, thats enough excitement for me in one weekend. So stay tuned next month when we excite ourselves with 72 nude, blind Cuban men in a dart throwing contest.------

7 ways to handle summer - tips by earl

- Freeze up some " spermsicles" or "cum on a stik" and cruise playgrounds for naive and thirsty youngsters.
- Wear pastel leisure suits and frequently visit Atlantic 2 City casinos on those funky caravan buses. 3
 - Urinate off a Wildwood fishing pier and hope that someday my pee-pee may reach the Mediteranean.
 - Disguise myself as a hot proctologist and infiltrate all local cesspools with the firm intent that I may become a successful padded toilet seat.
 - Date girls that enjoy wearing sweat moustaches.

- Lock myself in a locker full of rancid underwear and 6 pretend that I enjoy it to the fullest extent.
- 7 Equip my date's vagina with heavy duty refrigeration machinery and simultaneously ignite my sausage with a sizzling blow torch.

WKDU 91.7 THE SCOOP CATHY-CUMMINGS

Difficulty. The mode of existance at WKDU these days. A station management turnover which has thus far spanned five weeks and three different elections. A radiothon that has been rescheduled n factorial times. A programming guide which has been aborted due to lack of programming. And now, 91.7 is : as of May 1. in limbo on whether or not they can start programming. We are still awaiting approval of our recent power increase. They have already denied us once. Reason: aberrations in our proof of performance test. Yeah, right.

This power boost, which has been over 5 years in the making, will carry the new110 watt signal (previously 10 whopping watts) further into su-suburbia. IT will also significantly improve reception in the current broadcast radius.

Get ready for the new KDU.
