KEEP FUCKING THINGS UP!

Eugene of Whipping Boy writes us again and his devious mind is just brimming with activity. Here is a segment from his letter... "I have formed an army and we loosely run under the banner of 'civil disobedience'. If there's anything you can do to fuck-up the state of existing affairs-do it. This ranges from a brick through a window of a bank at 3:30 in the morning, fake inter-office memos, stealing and fucking things up on the job, or pulling a plug. If there's anything you can do (we are not above letting the air out of police tires) to fuck-up their society, do it. The only thing to watch out for is that it doesn't backfire. We have called it, aptly enough, the WBSF (Whipping Boy Strike Force) and are currently working on one of our biggest projects. delete-delete-delete-deletetecensor, cens Our last project was the stealing of light bulbs from the floor of some mega-maniacal business office leaving them partly in darkness.

Keep Fucking Things Up,

THE EXTERMINATION OF HUMANITY

Good going! You know what you can do with aspirin bottles? JUST KIDDING! I know, it wasn't even funny. I wouldn't do things where anybody could get hurt, until I'm threatened, but I wish I had some dynamite, I would have blown up the Washington Monument. Hey, the possibilities are endless. Anybody else have any ideas, send 'em to SLAM!

Doc Dart (Crucifux)-We have what is called the nothing to lose club, and its for terminally ill people. If they want to make our honor roll they will take their frustration out on power mongers in any way that they deem necessary. Vicki-We've been having fun raising hell and causing trouble here in Lansing. There was a forum called Beam Weaponry vs. Nuclear Freeze. This one group claims Beam Weapon Development will end the Nuclear Threat & improve the economy too both of which are bullshit. I read a 5-page statement that pissed this pro-beam guy off. Then me, Gus, Doc, Carol & 6 other friends heckled him 'til he shut up. Afterwards we went & wrote graffiti in the building where the forum was. There's 4 reactors on the MSU campus & a Cyclotron (the newest & most powerful in the world) which is a beam weapon.

MEDIA IS FUCKING SHIT!

Nothing but abuse-thatz what we get from the media. Quite a few years ago I decided that radio was stagnating-they didnt want to play anything I wanted to hear(except occassionally something differant on PBS) magazines and newspapers werent gonna show me what I wanted to know and nothing has been worth watching on the tube since Outer Limits and Twilight Zone, and now they even started charging to get extra channels,(cable)and the whole thing sucks.All this media is aimed at Brady Bunch type families cuz they consume the most shit without asking questions.So a few of us decided the only intelligent thing to do was to do was to ignore the media and make music that we wanted to hear, to put out a collected mag that had our ideas and graphic stimulation and no paid ads.Well-as much as our thoughts have turned towards hate of society and hate of about every aspect of life these Brady Bunch families hold true,we figure the FBI has probably been watching for a while.But we dont have anything to hid.(if your reading this Mr. G-man)Fuck you!We're gonna grow in numbers and tear this dinosaur of a system down!We'll start with the fucking White Peoples Party building and hit every fascist stronghold in the world! So then we put on these shows to get people to listen and get our anger out and have fun,and so I've been promoting these shows and fucking scene mag,clevo schlock asshole weekly gets uptight that there is a music scene that might turn kids away from MSB gigs and of course they wont listen to WMLasshole and so they wont print my press releases for the shows anymore.They know we're a threat to their multicorperate stranglehold.Hey we've been bringing in bands from San Fransisco to New Jersey and they waste space on the Adults or something.Then of course the national media comes up with CHIPS(which I didnt see)and then QUINCY,the fuckin necropheliac(look it up,kids).Out-right slanderous views of punks as nihilistic,drugged-out,violent,self abusing,etc...crock of shit.Punk,as an alternative media,opened up a slew of new ideas and hope,hope that some people arent apathetic about the world.And the straight edge anthem has helped me quit drinking,another positive step.Now I guess there is some movie out called 1984 which is even worse,and most people,as narrow-minded as they are,will take this for gospel,stupid kids will imitate it.Fucking mind control fasism lashes out.Are we gonna lash back or what?

punk rockers-hardcore punks-skinheads-etc., etc.
words to classify people, ways to isolate the things people are doing to keep them separate, words to make others believe that this way of life is only a "cultural phenomena" a group of unthinking, irresponsible juveniles, uninformed and foolish having no bearing on ones life outside the group of their peers.

these ideas that are being perpetrated are ideas that would be said no matter who or what the group of people called themselves at the time, it is a part of the human experience.
You think that its not relevant to you? WHO and WHAT are you?
if you must criticise BE INFORMED.
why "we" have affiliated ourselves with this WAY OF LIFE and why we feel the way we do is not to be shrugged off lightly, its more than a flight of insanity that so many people should feel the same unrest at the same time, and if it is insanity it is akin to that insanity of a don quixote in that we all seem to be striving for a set of truths and values bigger than ourselves, to make such striving invalid would be consigning talent and imagination to the life of every wooden drone worker whose piece of mind has been shattered into submission.

if you look closely so much of "punks" message is good, saying things like "fight ugliness now so there can be beauty tomorrow... help yourself, you're not alone... truth in your opinion, is not everyone's... in a world of changes and madness THINK before you act..."
when there are so many alcoholics, drug addicts, aggressive ignorance, and dissatisfaction with the way things are... how can you live happily?
you can hide, its easy, into a room of intellectualism and flowered reproductions up on your walls, and wear a glazed over smile on your face, believing in the family way forever, truth, justice and the american way (the lie we're nurtured on) because when you suss it out you'll see that these are the things that are tearing poor mother earth apart! yes to god its ugly, the human race is vile for letting these things happen to her! but how can you hide? soon you won't be able to drink the water that comes out of your faucet or maybe you won't even have water, you're not safe in your home, how can you say you're tired of ugliness when all the human race seems to be is ugly? i'm not closing my eyes to ugliness but i'm seeing the beauty beauty that could be too! in my own way doing even this saying something to you... maybe.....

what am i? saying? Look at us, why we're just a bunch of spoiled brats crying for milk... we can never say anything important... we don't have permission, we're tools to believe we can, we should just all find jobs at some factory (if there were some) buy a home, reproduce and tell our children not to dream or think because YOU AREN'T SAIT!

Many of you are familiar with the plight of the native american indians. Four-hundred years of genocide, persecution and oppression has not ended. The government is still trying to fragment the reservations, and by using strict regulations is literally starving them out. For the people to leave the reservations it would be the death of their culture. To me, the Native culture represents mans only chance of survival. It is unity and oneness with earth and also individuality and self-sufficiency. From personal experience with tribal leaders they want more for the planet as a whole then just for themselves. But now they are faced with 65% unemployment, no state or federal aid, food, clothes, blankets, kitchen utensils, tools, and money for propane (the only heat) and other necessities. They are trying to be self-sufficient and as it's own nation, but they need help. So we here at SLAM will be putting on a benifit soon and would like your support. Call us at 253-4102. If you'd like to make direct contributions donate stuff at most YMCA's or talk to Jim Fry at 659-3507, he's been running the show and getting truckloads of stuff out to Pine Ridge, SD.

NOT THE END

...nobody would have known that NJF had more than a couple weeks practice with their of Paul on guitar, Andy on growl, Harpo on bass and Chris with the sticks. They made the long trek from New Jersey exclusively for the show on the 29th day of January, and we are already looking forward to having them back, real soon.

SLAM: (diving right into a deep question) What other ways do you express your political motivations (demonstrations, vandalism, etc.)

Andy: I'm into the politics. Demonstrations, like the nuclear rally, I don't see what good that's doing if the people that show up just want to see the band and get high. The way I dress and the things I'm into show more than a demonstration.

Paul: I've always been anti-apathy.

Harpo: But, vandalism, any idiot with a rock...

Paul: With that in the papers it appears as a common vandal act.

SLAM: But if you back it up with a cause and spraypainting and propaganda.

A: Yeah, as long as nobody gets hurt.

Chris: Well, you have to admit, we're still a small minority, right now I think it's a process of getting people to realize what we're trying to do and that our aims are more of a political stance than a musical one.

R: People at my school just look at me like I'm a lunatic cuz I have no hair.

Chris: To do things affectively we're really gonna have to have more support. It's not like we're against people, we're against the system and close-mindedness. But it'll take time.

Andy: It could happen like in the sixties...

Paul: That people don't seem to realize was that the hippies could have been the most powerful political force of their time.

Andy: But they spent all their time on trying to legalize drugs.

Paul: They were for awareness and open-mindedness but what they didn't realize is that you can't be too aware when you're tripping on LSD, you can't even be aware of the wall in front of you.

SLAM: Do you align yourself with any political category?

Paul: I never align myself, period.

SLAM: What influenced the sound of your band?

Paul: Chuck.

Harpo: Ya, Chuck, up to like a month ago, he was the band. He taught Paul what he knew on guitar, he was the drumming, but then he started douching out on us.

Paul: As far as bands that I cite, I like the way Discharge used their guitar and the bass, it's an incredibly fast drone. I like the way guitar and bass come together and accent each other to make this powerful thing, but I have lots of influences (P: Void!) the more abstract stuff I learn, like funk or jazz the better it is in hardcore cuz I just start incorporating new aspects.

SLAM: What are some of your songs about?

Harpo: We have songs ranging from high schools to selective service, to youth decay.

Paul: I wrote youth decay because I was distraught because everyone in my school is apathetic, their world centers around who's gonna win the super bowl, who they're gonna fuck and how many drugs they're gonna take. It has straight-edge lines in it. It's about the contempt I have with the kids I go to school with. What do you think of television?

Chris: It's amazing how much better it could be.

Andy: There's nothing wrong with anything; television or drugs, etc., it depends on what you do, believe everything that it says, sit around it all day... that's stupid.

Paul: It can be very dangerous, though. Look at Quincy and Chips, that hasn't made my life any easier going to high school. We know we're being distorted, I'm sure they distort every way of life.

SLAM: What other good band are there in jersey?

Andy: Adrenalin O.D., Thirteen day Vacation, Sand in Face, the Out Group and Sid Sledge, Autistic Behavior, Seeds of Terror have two lead singers who switch back and forth.

SLAM: What do you think of sports?

Andy: I like sports, I used to play a lot.

Paul: It's just the mentality, we do a song called "competition", about being brought up being told you have to compete, you have to smeer the queer with the football, you have to compete in business to get to the top of the heap.

Andy: I have fun when I play sports, I'm good at 'em and I like 'em.

Harpo: I like fun. Life would be very boring without fun.

SLAM: What do you think of Linear d?

Paul: Ya, when I'm raking leaves I always request linear D. Tom Bosley is God.

Harpo: We use generic bags.

Paul: N.J.F. advocates generic products.

SLAM: What do you think of D.C.?

Harpo: I like DC. I like everything it says, but I can't be straight edge...

SLAM: What about Marvel?

Andy: I used to collect comics. I still got about a thousand left. Howard the Duck is good.

Paul: I think Zippy has a lot to say... I would like to award the official state basketball amputee trophy to Andy here, his performance in the game was extraordinary.

Harpo: Do you except?

Andy: No, I don't except because of all the bad things done to the Indian people, I don't except.

SLAM: Are you guys straight edge?

Harpo: I don't drink or take drugs but I smoke massive amounts of cigarettes, so I guess I'm not.

Paul: I don't classify myself as anything-it keeps me safe.

Harpo: I used to do a lot of drugs. I got bored with it. I just look at everybody how stupid they look when they're fucked up.

Tom: anti-drug. Some of us drink in the band though.

Jimi: I'm against the people that abuse them.

Brad(bass) people that let them control their lives which is most kids in this country.

Slam: What do you think you've accomplished in this past year?

Tom: people aren't laughing as much, as far as playing hardcore in northeast ohio.

Mike: When we started I thought we'd never get a gig.

Jimi: The first interview in Oops said "you'd better see em while you can cuz they won't last long."

Slam: When did you get this guy? (Brad).

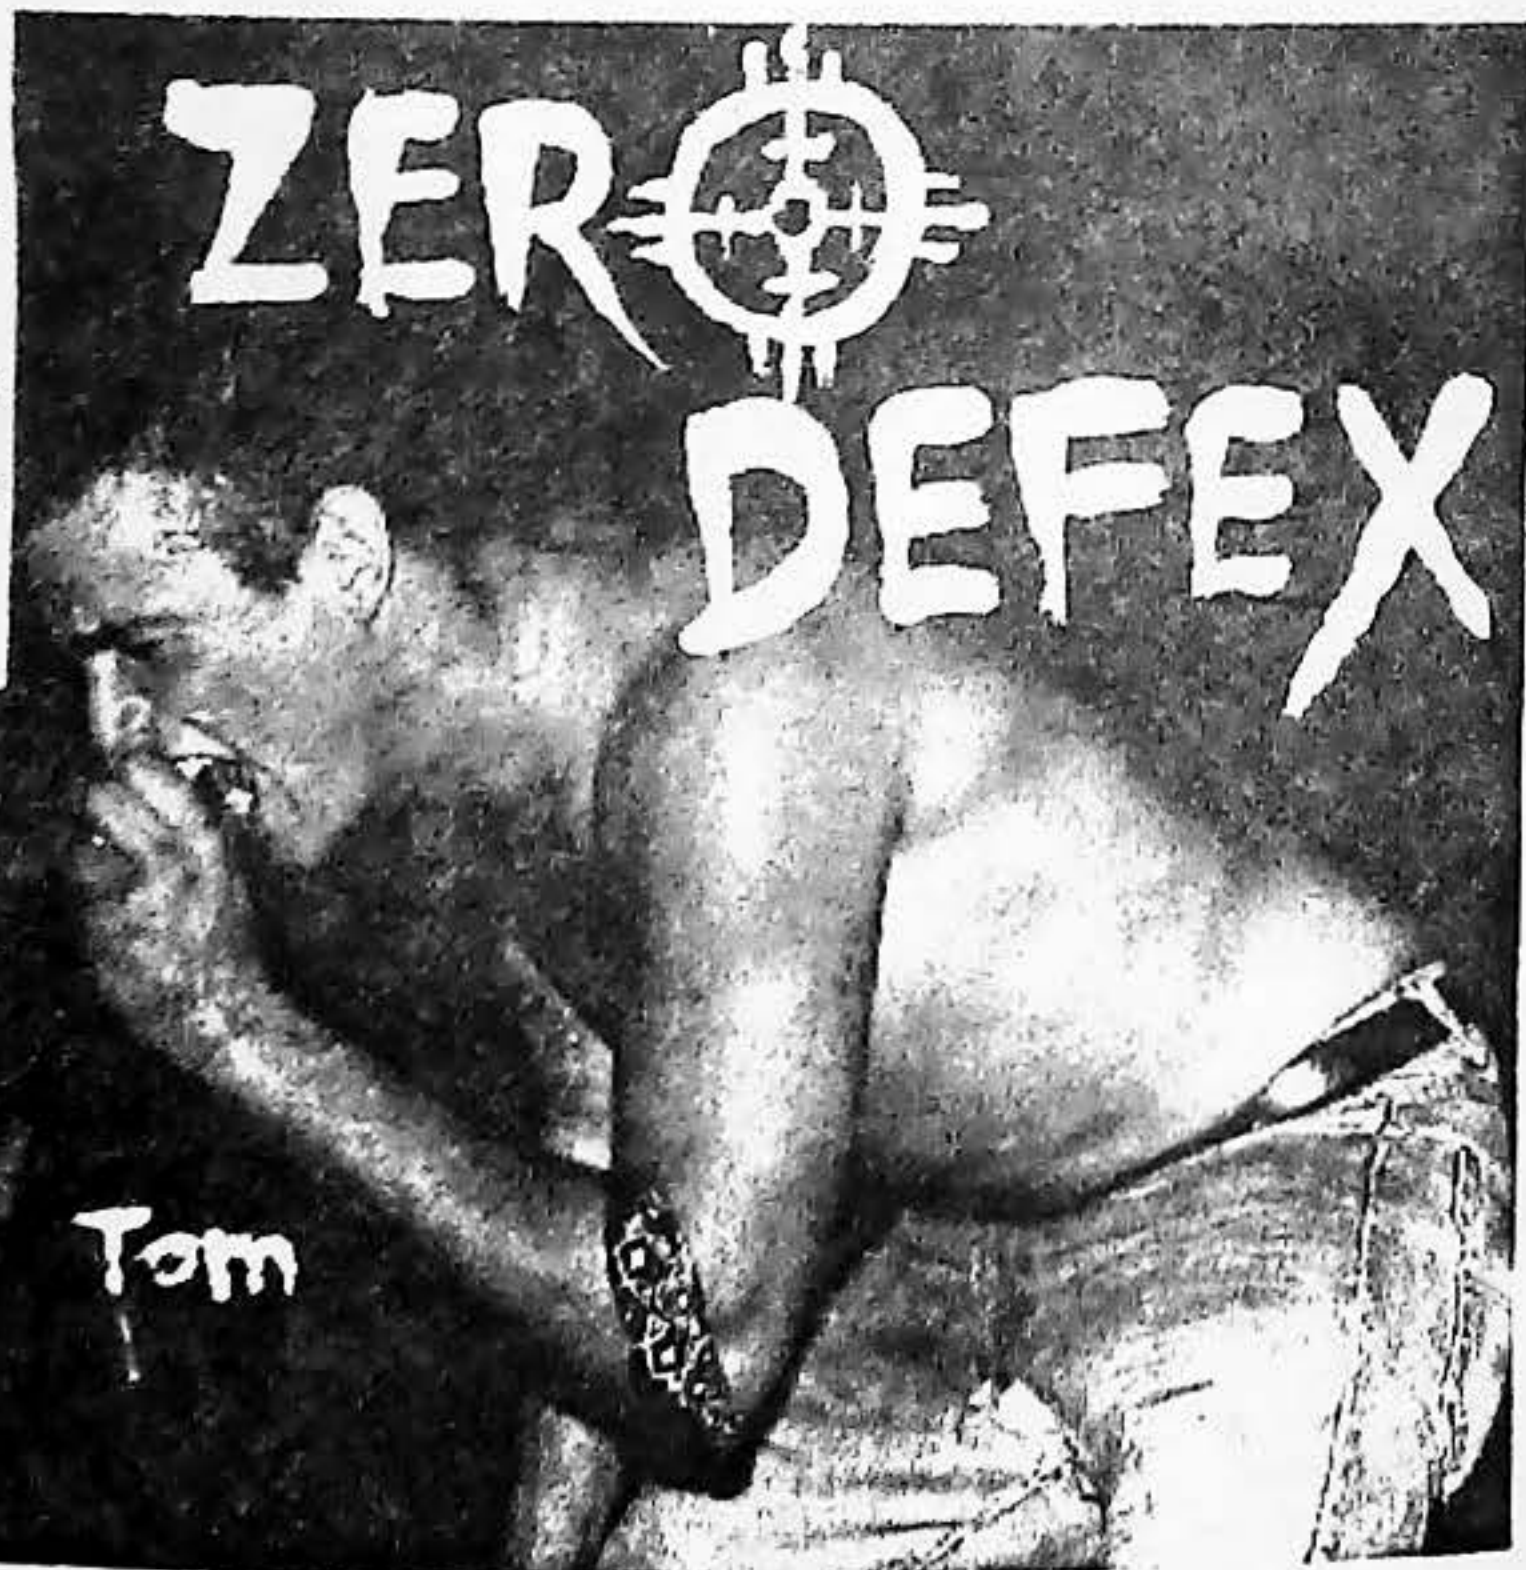

Tom: Last summer. We didn't know if he'd work out or not but now you just couldn't have Zero Defex without the long-haired bassist. If he's not in the band we'll have to change the name.

Tom: Since we've started, we haven't gotten any more equipment.

Brad: We don't own any of the equipment we play in the band!

Tom: Things have changed a lot, we have been playing out a lot, and we reach more people. But it could be bad were it becomes to acceptable and the life gets lost. Where it's just those nice bald guys screaming on stage. Gotta have the element of fear over the major populace.

Slam: Do you think just singing about Nukes will help?

 Jimi: At least we're not being lame. Maybe I should be out blowing things up?
 Mike: The cause itself is a lot bigger than the band. A lot of it is personal satisfaction.
 Tom: When I die I can think at least I screamed about what was going on.
 Brad: People have to be more aware, I mean they're brainwashed by television that doesn't say anything.
 Slam: What don't you like about sports?
 Brad: Making people feel inferior. My gym class was just a forum for people to make fun of me cuz I couldn't throw a ball.
 Slam: What about people who are good at it?
 Tom: Not for a million dollars a year.
 Jimi: Sports are a good and healthy thing but look what they charge for a ticket.
 Brad: They're better participating than spectating.
 Tom: I don't see how pro football players can have fun when they're worried about getting enough yardage to get a raise.
 Slam: What do you think of school?
 Tom: I think high school is the biggest joke. In collage, there's a lot of bullshit but it's worth it if you can afford it or get the government to pay. I just go and do what I want. I don't care if I get a higher paying job when I get out.
 Brad: You're gonna get a job?
 Tom: Little Shopper!
 Slam: Do any of you have jobs?
 Brad: In the summer I work at the Wadsworth Water Treatment.
 Slam: Weren't you called activated sludge for a while?
 Mike: For about 5 minutes.
 Tom: It's harder for kids from a higher economical status... I could have went to law school or something and here I am a punk. It's not just poor kids that rebel. Suburban punks are going more out of their way.
 Slam: How far do you wanna take Zero Defex?
 Tom: As a unit, we could keep going and still come up with fresh stuff but the idea of a hardcore punk band playing for years and years when it's based on change. It could end up as a fashion. It's gonna get big and be just another trend.
 Slam: But the people with conviction will stay with it and the trendies will find another trend.

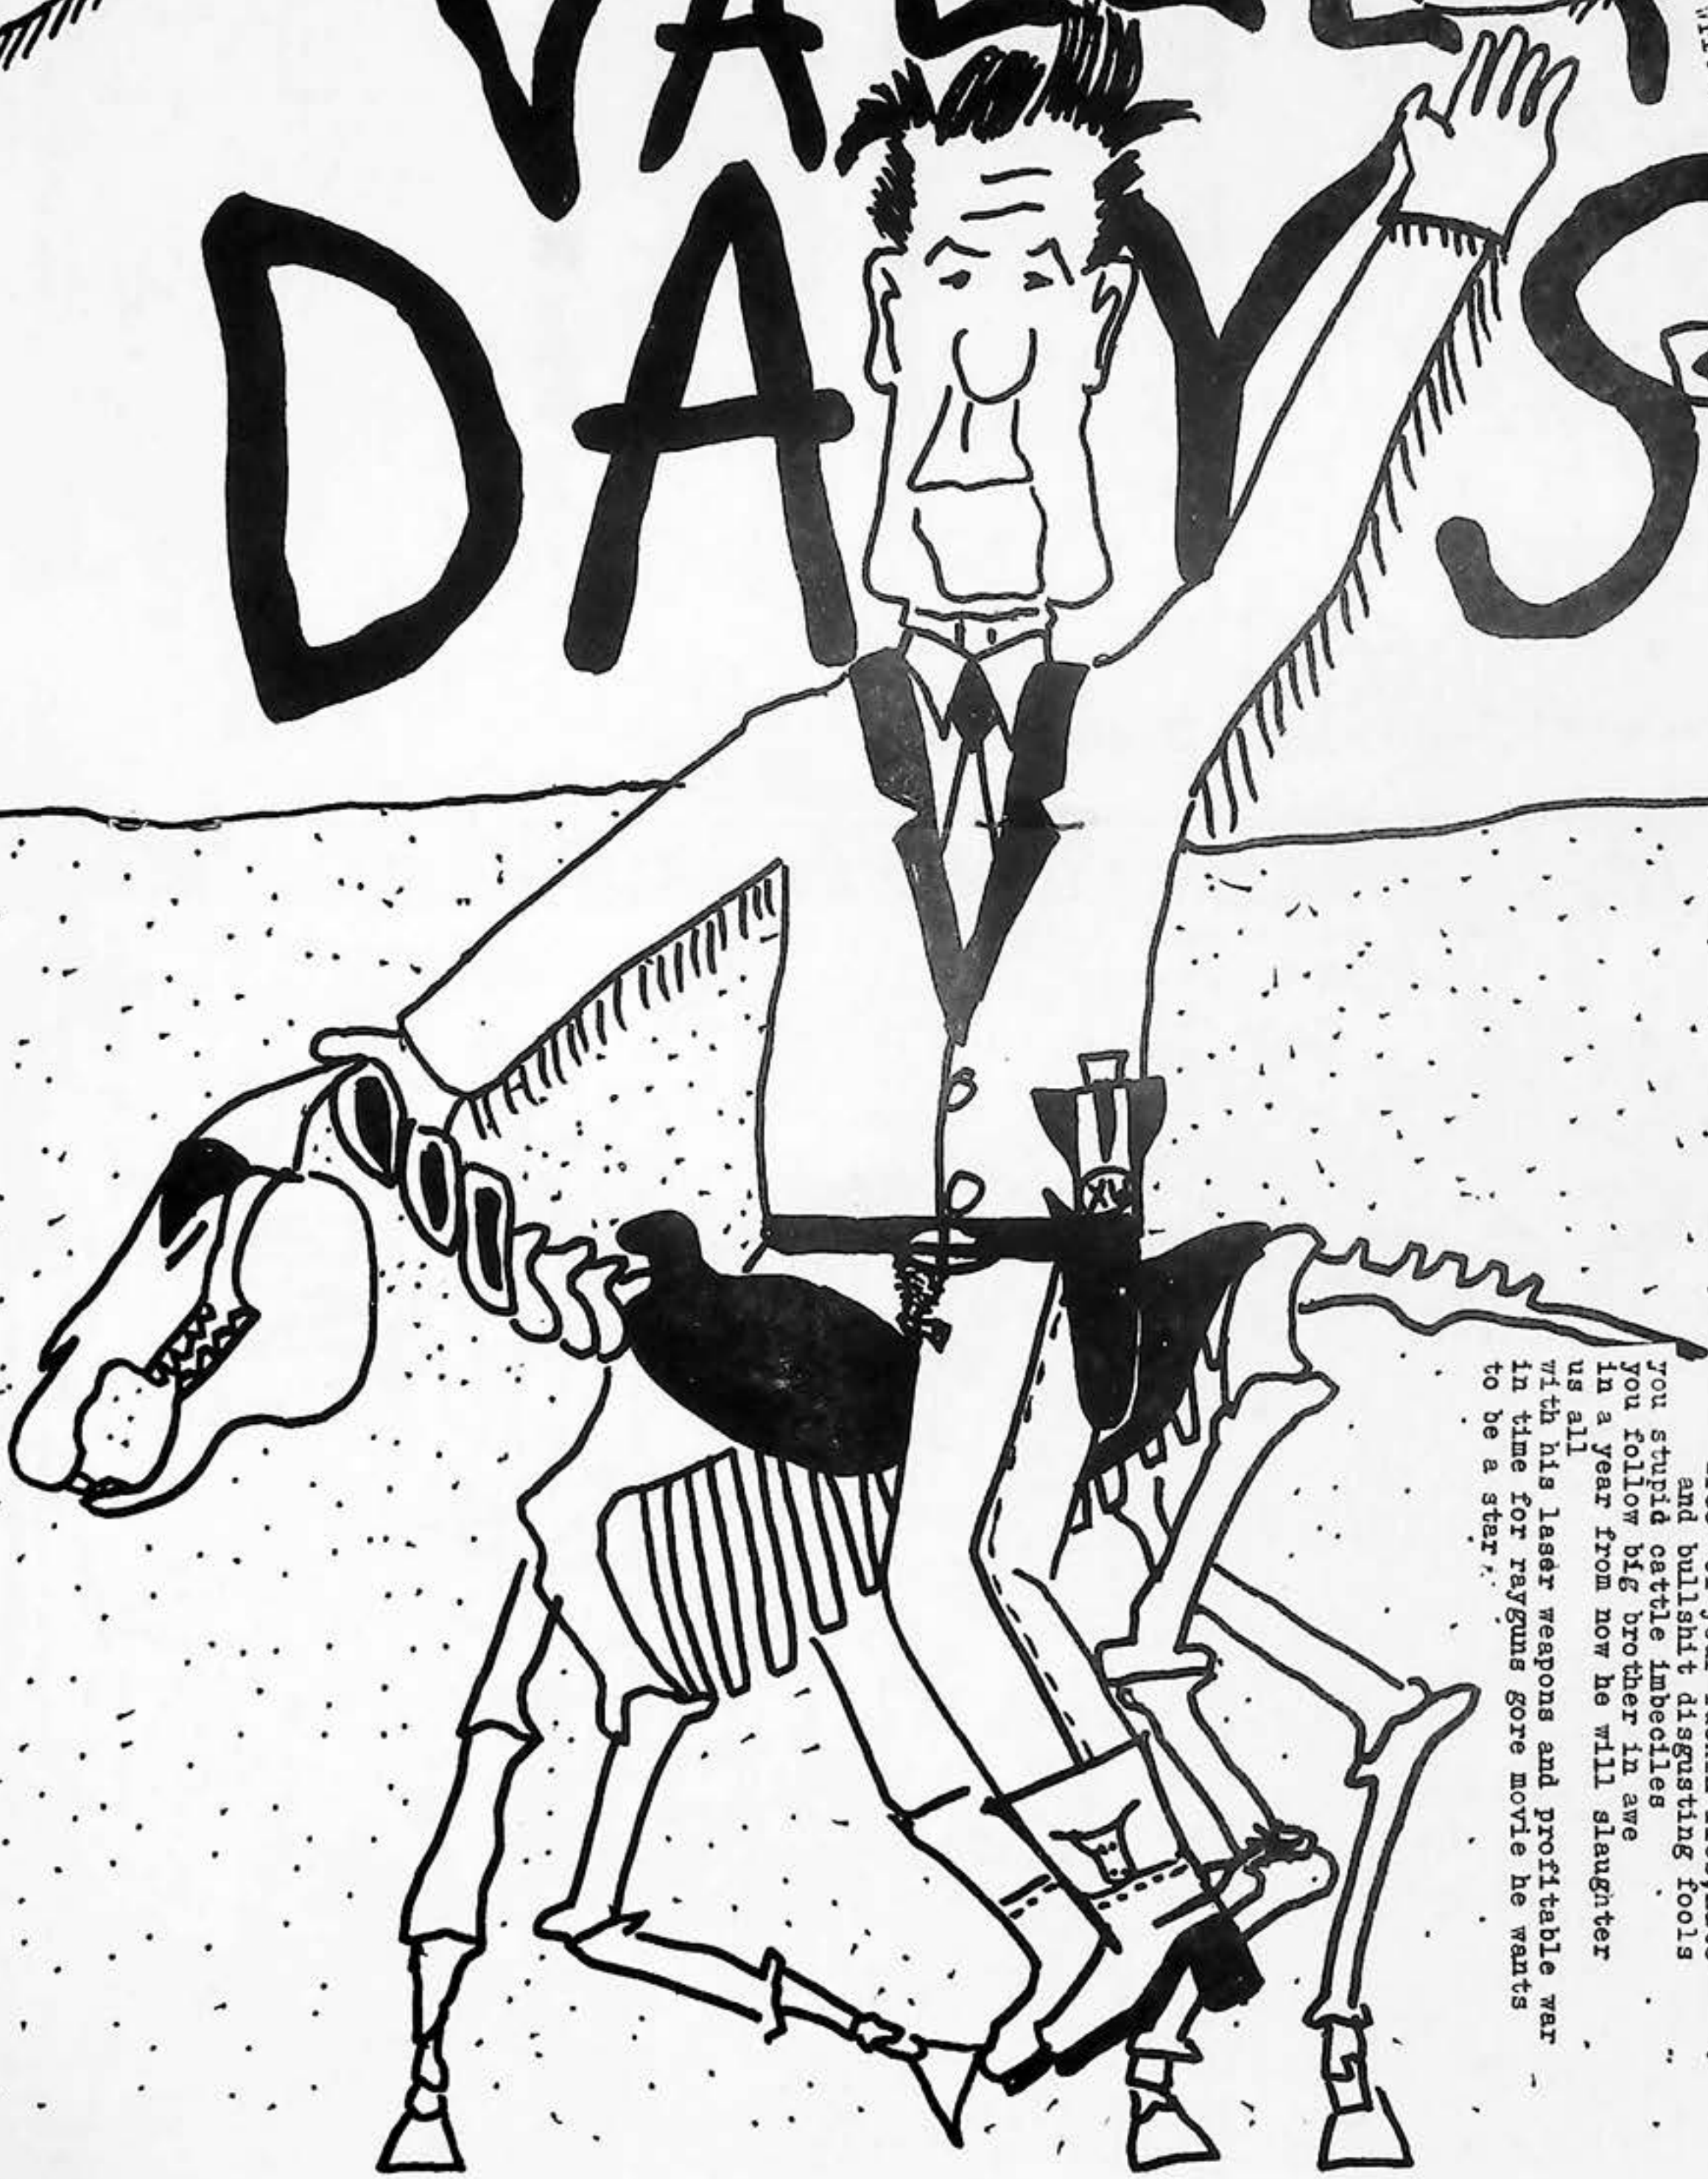

Zero Defex is a military term for your psychological status when an officer is banking for promotion

Tom: I'm saying as a strict musical form it has to change. The ideas will stay. But not like the Clash who said we're progressing.
 What is Swine Hunt Doggen about?
 Mike: It's a fun song. See I was in the kitchen cooking a bagel, til Delila came in and stuck her nose up my ass, and I burned the bagel.
 Slam: What is Heat about?
 Tom: It's about walking around and people hassling ya and your getting burned up inside and you want to bust out.
 Slam: What do you think of Cleveland?
 Tom: I like it as a city, I don't like the punk scene there ever since the Pagans and that shit were around. People there are just there to make an appearance. The new kids like in Euclid, Tom dark, and the guys from Mentor and Willoughby. They're not from that old scene. A lot of those old people show up and they're as boring as they ever were. NO LABELS

Interview? w/ No Labels

Vince wrote us and asked us to conduct our interview. We didn't really know what questions to ask/answer so here's a brief history, and a few statements that we'd like to make/clear-up.

background No Labels started in Feb. of 82. We were looking for fun and there were quite a few people in Raleigh who liked hardcore-but no bands to speak of. By Aug. we had established a permanent line-up and we started writing our own songs. We all like music other than hardcore-ie blues, HM(w/o the mentality), reggae-however it's the energy and/or truthfulness of the music that we are attracted to-not the label. At this pt. it is mainly "hardcore" that we play.

band's purpose or intent Having fun-us and the audience-is the main purpose but we can't help but interject personal opinions and politics within our songs. As Vince told me, it is too bad that there are so many bands that don't take a stance on anything either in their music or lyrics. If you're serving something that tastes good, why not add some nutrition to it?? One important thing to remember about us and every other band is that what we say is an opinion-no more, no less-The important part of what we say is the questions or thoughts we arouse, Not the answers. Those are for you to find.

On Raleigh and D.C. Because of Ral.'s small size, a relatively small scene, and narrow minded club owners, very few national bands make it to the area. No Labels and others have relied on DC as a place to go and see shows. They have some of the best bands anywhere. This is important because the song "HardCore" on the North Carolina complication NoCore has seemed to cause a lot of tension between NC and DC. -It is unnecessary and unfortunate.-We would like to explain that we personally think that DC as a whole has a great scene with good attitudes and good people, but within any scene, especially one of its size, one is going to find problems. We cite DC in the song because we are familiar with the place. Its intention is not to breed ill feelings, but to serve as constructive criticism from an outside view-stressing the distinction between territorialism and localism; and the stupidity of the hypocrasies people commit just to be "accepted" in "scene".

Recorded material

We have 15 songs on the NoCore tape. We also have 2 songs on the up coming "Master Tape" and a few songs on a world wide comp. that Jimi Imij is working on. --This isn't really an interview, so if anyone has any questions or comments-please write us and we will do our best to reply. THANKS

I'm sure you've noticed the lack of gigs. I've always felt if you want reviews in Slam. I've started as an alternative to the fascist restricted bars and has worked quite well. Our all age shows have featured bands such as Meat Puppets, Repellants, Crucifucks, NJF, Young Life, Radical Left, Reflex, from Pain and Vatican Commandos, plus our own area bands. If your band wants to play call me at (216) 253-4102, maybe send a demo which will be reviewed in Slam. * ransid

NO THANKS/N.Y.C.

NO THANKS from N.Y.C.

It has really baffled me how a cultural center like New York City for so long has been so void of any worthwhile energy. I don't count the Dolls or Thunders or any of that shit cuz it all sucked. But then suddenly out of the clear blue we get this tape from No Thanks that makes up for the past century of lame ROIR tapes and such. This thing left my tape player smoking with seething society hate! Their demo was recorded last June, but they just recorded their 45 so write them today for yours. Donna (screacher for M.T.) wrote and told us about the bad apple... "Noone cares hear really about 25% of our scene actually are into thinking. The majority are into hardcore just for FUN. They don't care if Reagans Army is almost at their doorstep to slaughter them. They don't care about anyone but themselves just like everyone else in this society which I despise! I'm just sickened lately by everything I see. We have few but the bands who are conscious are kickass, like Rapid Deployment, XKI, Antidote, Savage Circle, Fathead Suburbia, Ultra violence. It's a shame if you have to say that about NYC but it's the truth. I don't know if it's like that everywhere else. I hope not. ☺

ITALY

ITALY HARDCORE

Holy fucking MaMa MIA! Who would have thought out of the ol' boot peninsula you could get such an intense scenerio of bands. I thought Italy was behind the Iron Curtain or something! Well this here guy Bettini Stefano who sings in this band I Refuse It sent us this tape he compiled and it is awesome. His band kicks off the tape exploding with such an intense fury they make Black Flag look like malignant girl scouts! I also delighted in the abstractness and creativity that goes along with the intensity. Songs include "fight news", "registrazione Del 27-8-82", "hit & run attack", "sacrafici umani", "the camel girl", "spread of disease" and more. A must hear to believe. Next up is Cheetah Chrome M*Fers which is live and raw and the mind fucking shit this band plays is a total assault to the senses. Great songs like "nation on fire", "addiction", and "barb-wire world". Flip the tape to side B for Jesus & the Gospel F*ers and they are a mind rape with metal spiced songs including "dope, alcohol", "Kill the police", "t.v. slave". I don't know if any more of this tape are available but you can get more info by writing Stefano of I Refuse It at: VIA XXVII APRILE 4, 5029 Firenze, Italy. He listed more great hardcore from Italy being: Anti (Firenze), Cheetah Chrome Motherfuckers (Pisa), Fallout (La Spizia), Holocaust (La Spiz), Indigesti (Vercelli), Dioxina (Rimini), Wretched (Milano), Traumatic (Livorno), Fuck-Off (Neviano), E U's Arse (Udine), Declino (Torino) and more... look for I REFUSE IT ON AFFIRMATION CASSETTE COMPILATION

KNOXVILLE TENNESSEE

...Turbine 44, the longest lived band in Knoxville, has existed in various incarnations for 3 years. A three-piece art damage outfit, turbine bases its sound on droning bass riffs, thrash drumming and wall of noise guitar. On a good night turbine is immensely entertaining, on a bad one sloppy and pathetic. Songs include the classic "girls turn green", covered by just about every Knoxville band ever. "The Go-Go's are avant garde", "clinging monkeys" and "fossil numeral". Young Life, who will play in Akron soon, rose from the ashes of Angry Youth, which spent most of 1982 trying to translate a load of good material into a convincing live show. The new band has pulled it off-they play hard-edged garage music reminiscent of Seven Seconds. The Plain Truth is a bunch of modest, unassuming skinheads from Johnson City who play relentless thrash a' la Hüsker Dü. Koro is a fast heavy metal/hardcore outfit obsessed with anti-religion (their symbol is an inverted cross); songs include "Dial-A Prayer" and "we have a freind in Jesus". They are very tight and improve every time out. A new skinhead thrash band called Burn Center debuted Jan. 7, they are good but need some work. The most popular band in Knoxville is Sexually Trained Dogs but take that with a grain of salt, this is my band). We play sort of eclectic hardcore mixed with country, reggae, Motown, rockabilly, jazz, etc. We have have started to become a regional band and will be touring the Midwest and Texas/Nevada/California this summer-or you can see us in Cincinnati in February. Elsewhere in Tennessee: the committee for public safety is from Murphreesboro, a pretty typical hardcore band-their ideas are better than their music. The best band in the south is Jason and the Nashville Scorchers. Not hardcore, not even really punk, but fast, fast country, the scorchers seem to appeal to everybody from hardcore skinheads to new wave preppies-probably the Next Best Thing from Tennessee.

Proponents of laser beam weaponry debated with advocates of a nuclear freeze Thursday night in the Engineering building. The issue of high-technology and the threat to the economy.

LONDON'S Dreadful Visitation:

Death of a Hero, a friend, an editor, but not a dream

This is about Mark McNeish, not some student without any identity. Mark was a dreamer, a friend, a writer and a punk. Let us redefine punk as to Mark, the word doesn't do him justice. Mark was a person that was upset with a system that was racist, narrow minded, and used and oppressed the poor; and he was willing to use some unusual means to fight it. To this, was Mark's definition as a punk.

Mark had a full life and did things that most wish they had the originality to do. Mark was a lot like almost any person his age, he was gifted, with brains, friends, looks, personality, and a charming girlfriend. But unlike most Pittsburgh kids, Mark was not afraid to think and be different, to do things, and to change something he thought was wrong. He enjoyed living and did it with a passion. He also liked hardcore punk and frequented many concerts and was a terrific slammer.

Mark made the most of any situation, he even took the microphone off Reed (five). Too bad Reed knew not how to take a joke.

All of us who knew Mark will have the memories, and we can all share and have his ideas. Remember the good times. No one understands one thing though, anyone who knew Mark wouldn't understand it either. Why when most kids are strutting, screaming and yelling "nigger" KKK all the way, while Mark fought many a times against "rednecks", racists, did he have to die a "whiteboy"? It's not fair and I wish it was because Mark loved justice. Please don't forget the idea of freedom for everyone, because I think that is what Mark would have wanted you to honor it. If we all carry his dream, the world would be a better place.

Special thoughts to: the McNeish Family, Erika and Henry, Jimi Imij, WRCT, Harry Wagner, WYEP, Tommy Strange, John Crawford, Vince Ransid, Michele and husband of North Highland Ave and Melvin (ragmatic) and Wendy and Alex for introducing me to Mark and Jim.

McNeish, 18, died at Temple University Hospital at 2:50 a.m. Sunday of three gunshot wounds of the stomach.

He is the son of Ronald F. McNeish, who owns a jewelry business on Walnut Street in Pittsburgh's Shady-side section.

The shooting occurred after a man had an argument with some students inside the shop. The man, who police described as black and in his 20s, left but returned a short time later with a small-caliber handgun and a German shepherd dog and opened fire, hitting McNeish but missing another student, police said.

Detectives said McNeish was not involved in the earlier argument with the gunman.

LABORATORY ANIMALS NEED YOUR HELP

A veterinary surgeon, assisted by other scientists, poisoned pedigree Beagle dogs with the weedkiller sodium chlorate. These experiments were performed at the Huntingdon Research Centre, Huntingdon. The dogs were force-fed the weedkiller by stomach tube over a period of five days. The scientists noted 'marked loss of appetite and body weight with lassitude, vomiting and blood-streaked faeces . . . urine contained blood on day three. Death occurred on day four'.

Vet. Record, April 1972, pp.416-418

1 Some monkeys were infected with a bacteria. After 3 days large amounts of mucous fluid poured from the animals' eyes and noses. They had high fevers, lost their appetites and had difficulty breathing. They were left in this state until death occurred on the fifth, sixth and seventh day.

Br. Journal of Experimental Pathology
